

Cameron Summers has been selected as the Unit Coordinator for Pio Pico District. Born and raised in Santa Monica, Cameron grew up involved in both the Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts. After high school, Cameron went to Gonzaga University in Spokane, Washington. He received his BA degree in Communications: Public Relations. During the pandemic, he worked remotely as a customer support specialist working with Subaru and then a digital consultant working with GM Canada. As an Eagle Scout, Cameron wanted to give back to Scouting, leading him to seek employment with the Greater Los Angeles Area Council. He still goes camping and hiking during his free time but also enjoys watching TV, reading, and playing Dungeons and Dragons.

Marissa Stanley has been selected as the Unit Coordinator for San Gabriel Valley District. Originally from West Covina, California, lived in Paris, France, where she obtained her bachelor's degree in History, Law and Society from the American University of Paris. Following her passion for social advocacy and community building, Marissa worked as a Legislative Assistant for the City of Long Beach. Marissa has also worked as an International Development Research Assistant, where she focused on creating vocational educational programs in the Middle East and Northern African region. Marissa enjoys ceramics, hiking, and podcasts.

Benjamin Rose is joining the Greater LA Scouting Team as a Sales and Marketing Coordinator. Ben grew up participating in Scouting in the San Gabriel Valley area and has even been part of our Camp Cherry Valley Staff. He is currently a senior at Cal Poly Pomona studying marketing management. His favorite hobbies and activities include hiking, drinking coffee, and watching hockey. He is very excited to join the Greater LA Scouting team and is excited to grow the Scouting organization using his marketing skills and experience.
